

JUNIORS

SPLIT TRAINING OPTION

The Washington Army National Guard has an opportunity for Juniors to receive training and begin a part time job. Start applying for college benefits early.

HOW TO START

Enroll as a Junior in high school (Must be 17 years old to join). Attend Basic Combat Training (BCT) during the summer between your junior and senior year. Receive training, gain time in service, and a part time job. Receive $150-$250 (depending on rank) while attending the Recruit Sustainment Program (RSP).

When you return from training for your senior year, you'll train one weekend a month with the Recruit Sustainment Program. You will continue to improve in physical fitness and necessary skills. After graduation, you'll attend Advanced Individual Training (AIT) to acquire your desired Military Occupational Specialty (MOS). Take the ASVAB today and find out which MOS's you qualify for!
